

1.4.42

a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant

Theodore Cottingham, January 26, 2006 8:23am. in van

www.unc.bz

1. Who knows the power of a single word, a thought?
A single thought, who knows the power in?
And where did that power come from that is in that thought received/transmitted, made complete or incomplete?
Or can thoughts be incomplete, or surrendered, yea not rendered according to their definition from whence sent nor as normally received?
2. Who can know what thoughts do and how they are broadcast and motive'd about, yea, without science, but in natural state, are?
3. And who are My satellites to receive, to transmit, to be, to beam?
4. And who will transcend and know whereof I speak or consider the opportunity of My/there appearing; their/My appearing in them, yea in thought preceding thought, or thought-thought, or thought true and real coming through what they think is normal thought?
5. And who can keep track of all the thoughts that yea, ramble in and out and receive bombardment from not-Me.
I love you and I give you Me.
6. Consider My thoughts, consider My ways, consider My heart, My fashion and form; and yea will you look to Me for thought, for thoughts? Or will you render your own judgments yourself?
I love you and I give you Me.
7. Thou has said in your heart, "there is no God" not; yea you have told Me time and time and time and time again, "I know You're real, I know You're real, I know You hear me." And yes, I am real and I hear you and I am and I love you and I thank you for every thought.
8. Who can know the power in a single digit, a single word, a single thought, a single moment of comprehension; an understanding that may be fleeting or permanent or that may change a life or dimension or mixture, or solution bring?
9. Yea I love you and I give you Me and I give you all the answers to My questions, don't I? Yea and Amen; and I love you and so much more and many coming to make use of the words that I share on a morning by morning basis, day by day; and who can see the power of My thought, yea versus theirs? And surrendering, bring what to pass; bring what into comprehension; bring what into the knowledge, wisdom and understanding of man, not, but yea bringing My knowledge and wisdom and understanding into what was before thought of man. So, what happens when My thoughts preempt not your thoughts; but My thoughts become surrendered to? The Mind of Christ emerges; and who can see the miraculous/reality? I love you.

10. This is the day of new beginnings in you. Forestall not, foretold, yea and repeatedly; and yea into many I have and am and do. And yea this is a great day in Me and I am excited, for My thought pervades not the ones that don't want Me, but the ones who value Me, value My words, value My thoughts above breath: they shall have My mind, they shall have all of Me, and they shall want for nothing.

11. See what I have said/given in these short moments in Big Red (1). Big Red comes to an end soon for I have more. I have so much more; you, My finest; I've stated before and My word is true.

12. I am My word and I give you My word and My word shall not be broken.

13. See you a priest in the Order of Melchizedek; raising, leashing not; leasing not, but yea flourishing the freedom finale that brings All-Freedom. I love you.

14. This is the day of My appearing and you now show Me, reveal Me, yea are Me, in the newness of the new things that I am doing, yea in so many. Be thou it according to your will.

15. Who reigns supreme? I do, because you let Me, you want Me, you surrender to My every thought and I thank you and forever will be yours, eternally.

Amen

Footnotes:

1. Big Red is my name for the 1993 GMC van I drive.